

The Sound Of Silence

Wandering around on shaking feet,
Powered by the hunger for success,
Driven by desire for progress
Everything`s serious, too serious to live,
To go your own way, you take before you give
Time runs away, you must hold on tight,
Life passes you by, like a lost fight

The people I see living to work,
isolated, unfree, their backs to the wall
Hand to mouth, turn a blind eye,
Looking away, and forgetting it all

Can you hear it?
The sound of silence
Can you hear it?
The sound of silence

It seems the unrest will never end,
Zapping all day, constant signals are sent Passive addiction to daily free for all,
Saturated senses, pride will have a fall

I need the good on my screen,
It ended the day for all, the night was clean
Just have to pull out the plugs, one by one,
Sinking into silence, no more man on the run

The people I see living to work,
isolated, unfree, their backs to the wall
Hand to mouth, turn a blind eye,
Looking away, and forgetting it all

Can you hear it?
The sound of silence
Can you hear it?
The sound of silence
