

Rain drops are trying hard to stop me as time goes by I've begun to see You went too far, you abused my trust, but hurting words are crumbled to dust Where are my friends of yesterday, up to now I thought we'd take the same way my illusions turned into shattered dreams, dreary days without sun's beams

I gave you my trust and open ears, gave my heart and shared your fears I gave you my hope and seeing eyes, now I'm standing in your shadow of lies when the promise was broken
I know I have to go on my own...

I have to go on my own,
the only road I've ever known
going all on my own,
my path of dreams I'll walk alone

You wanted big yields, I've paid the costs,
You looked for honour, I prepared the ground You're giving up your life for lost, I looked for deep rock'n roll sound the promise is broken, I go on living, something was stolen from my soul I'll follow my dream and keep on giving, the one and only way to fill my role

I gave you my courage and helping hand, my trust, I tried to understand I gave you friendship, you cut all ties, I'm standing in your shadow of lies
And when the promise was broken
I know I have to go on my own...

I have to go on my own,
the only road I've ever known
going all on my own,
my path of dreams I'll walk alone

I'll walk alone

T.+M.: chunkybeltones 2013