

Nobody can tell us what is wrong or should be right-the ups and downs of life, a change from day to night-maybe it will be forever- that we belong together

Nobody can tell us what is love or what is hate-Natural feelings determine our destiny and fate-
maybe it will be forever- that we belong together

Nobody could tell us that true love will never die-We live our dream but never we have dreamed a lie-
maybe it will be forever- that we belong together

Both of us cover our secret desires- Hidden fears we've pushed to one side-Do we want this to be our daily life? You can find me where you try to hide.-
We belong together
